COMMENCEMENT EXERCISES.

The Commencement exercises of the Cloverport High School in the Methodist church Friday evening were beautiful. The seven girl graduates and their flower girls were the prettiest part of the program. The graduates marched in single column from the vestibule to the altar, linked together by a beautiful chain of red roses thrown over their shoulders. The column was led by Martha Heaton Williams followed by Margaret Wickliffe Moorman, Ray Lewis Heyser, Jennie Mable Harris, Katherine Klyde Moorman, Jess Simons Smith and Maud DeBruin Polk. Miss Francis Smith played the march.

The invocation was by the Rev. Currie, followed by a piano solo by Miss Francis Smith.

Prof. J. P. King introduced Dr. A. S. McKenzie of the Kentucky State college who made an address, subject "White Magic." "White Magic" was found to be the influence which one individual unknowingly exerts over another. Dr. McKenzie said that the more education a person had the more "White Magic" he possessed. There is a great deal of humor in Dr. McKenzie and his talk provoked much merriment as well as thought. He received much applause.

"Going to Market" as Mrs. L. T. Reid sang it captivated the audience. The crowd showered Mrs. Reid with applause after applause.

Prof. J. P. King presented the diplomas to the graduates, followed by a piano selection by Miss Rebecca J. Wilha. Prof. King rose to thank the audience and say a word to the graduates. At the mention of the graduates the house went into a storm of cheers.

The graduates then received their flowers. Rev. J. T. Lewis delivered the benediction.

BIG DAY AT IRVINGTON.

Over 13,000 lbs of wool was brought here and about $44,000 distributed among the people that day. That day is long to be remembered as one of Irvington's busiest scenes.

DELIGHTFUL ENTERTAINMENT.

Mr. and Mrs. James S. Younger delightfully entertained Saturday evening in honor of the graduating class of the High School. The feature of the evening which was especially enjoyable because of its novelty it being the auction sale of the young ladies and young gentlemen were the guests. The young ladies were put on the highest first, Horvics Rafferty acting as auctioneer, and then the young gentlemen, Miss Mayne DeHaven officiating in the same capacity. The prices the young ladies brought all ran into the score of dollars, the bidding being done by the young men, especially toward the close of the sale seemed to be the liveliest. One young man sold for only forty-five cents, another for five hundred dollars and still another for two billion dollars.

Each young man was required to repeat the name of the young lady when he purchased, after the purchase was made, the auctioneer having announced her name before the bidding began. This furnished much amusement. The auctioneer commented on their "goods" during the progress of the bidding, as auctioneers will, the graduates and other young ladies who were present and were sold were each of a different nationality, and were as follows: Miss Ray Heyser, Miss Rounia Lowellen Havenscraft, Miss Margaret Moorman, Duchess Millian Winstanley Mayhampston, Miss Martha Willis, Miss Marie L. Avon Francalme, Miss Jennie Maule Harris, Miss Nujaba Mahaja Abnadi, Miss Katharine Moorman, Secorita Mari Montawentis, Miss Lydia Goebling of Hawesville, Miss Katina Olga Techederay, Miss Mayne DeHaven, Frank Grechenster, Hensletter, Miss Slaves to Spring Catarrh Restored to Health By Peru-na.

Honest People Tell Their Experiences. Spring,—the Time to Cure Catarrh.

Mr. J. Q. Craig, a well-known athlete, whose home address is Bridgeton, N. J., writes from the Hotel Donavin, Delaware, Ohio, as follows:

"I can say of Peru-na that, as a tonic for the spring of the year, it is the best for athletes, and as such I can give it a hearty recommendation."

Peru-na does not fail to prevent the lassitude and languor incident to the approach of warm weather, if taken in time.

Mr. Wessand Houseman, a prominent and aged citizen of Seneca Falls, N. Y., is the inventor of a number of implements of modern warfare. He writes:

"For several years past, I and my family used your Peru-na as a tonic and for the purification of the system in general and find that it is an excellent medicine to restore weak nerves to a healthy condition."

MRS. JOHN E. MILLS

Mrs. John E. Mills, 80 Mulberry St., Lynn, Mass., writes:

"I have been troubled with catarrh since I was ten years old. At times my head troubled me so that I was obliged to stay in a dark room. Nothing helped me and my physician said I could never be cured."

"I began taking Peru-na this spring and find myself greatly benefited by it. I have not had an attack since I took my first bottle. I think in time it will cure me. It has already improved my appetite and my general health and I have gained twenty pounds in three months."

"I have recommended it to several of my friends, who also find it very beneficial. I advise any one troubled with catarrh to use Peru-na."

MR. J. Q. CRAIG

Mr. Warren M. Taylor, 1216 8th Ave., Brooklyn, N. Y., who, in a recent letter, writes:

"I suffered from a general feeling of lassitude, with occasional creeping chills, followed sometimes by fever and biliousness."

"These symptoms manifested themselves mostly in the spring and fall."

"I suffered this way for about seven years."

"Last spring I began using Peru-na and followed the instructions as set forth in one of Dr. Hartman's booklets which I picked up in a drug store and to my great joy I noticed that within a week I was nearly cured."

"At the end of two months I was entirely cured and feel as though I have a new lease of life."

Nature's Assistance.

Spring is the best time to treat catarrh. Nature renews herself every spring. The system is rejuvenated by

MRS. A. S. RUCKER

Mrs. A. S. Rucker, 124 Cedar street, Nashville, Tenn., writes:

"I wish to tell you what Peru-na has done for me. In the spring of 1902 I was very sick and so weak I could scarcely be up. I was alarmed at my condition."

"I had had cough for some time and I tried several cough medicines, but grew worse all the time. I knew if I did not get relief, I would soon go into consumption."

"So I decided to try Peru-na. I had confidence in it before I took it and found it was just the medicine I needed, for in a short time my cough ceased and my strength returned."

"I have enjoyed better health since taking it than I had for several years previous."

Spring Catarrh.

Almost every one has come to believe that spring is a season that brings derangements of the body dependent on blood impurities.

This belief is an old one, is nearly universal, and has arisen, not as the result of the teachings of the medical fraternity, but has been learned in the bitter school of experience.

Nervous Depression.

Depression of the nervous system at the approach of spring is a fertile source of blood impurities.

There are general lassitude, dull, heavy sensations, continual tired feelings, with irregular appetite, and sometimes loss of sleep.

That Tired Feeling.

That tired feeling, which is the natural result of the depressing effect of warm weather immediately after the invigorating cold of winter, quickly disappears when Peru-na is taken.

The Correct Remedy.

Peru-na meets every indication and proves itself to be perfectly adapted to all their varied peculiarities. Peru-na invigorates the system, rejuvenates the feelings, restores the normal appetite and procures regular sleep.

Do Not Delay.

Get a bottle of Peru-na when the first languid feelings make themselves apparent in the spring. Take it according to the directions on the bottle. Continue this treatment through the first months of spring.

This course of treatment is no experiment. It has helped thousands. Why should it not help you?

A Spring Tonic.

Almost everybody needs a tonic in the spring. Something to brace the nerves, invigorate the brain, and cleanse the blood. That Peru-na will do this is beyond all question. Everyone who has tried it has had the same experience as spring weather. This renders medicines more effective.

A short course of Peru-na, assisted by the balmy air of spring, will often relieve old, stubborn cases of catarrh that have resisted treatment for years.

A Word of Advice.

To those who have been afflicted with chronic catarrh we wish to say that the spring season affords you a splendid opportunity to get rid of your disease.

It may be you have been afflicted for several years; you may have tried different remedies. Perhaps you have become discouraged.

Now is Your Opportunity.

This failure was during the winter months. But now is your opportunity. Nature comes to your assistance at this season.

Just help her a little and she will bring you out of the quagmire in which you have been floundering so long. Give Nature a little assistance, let her struggle be in vain.

A Typical Case.

Geo. M. Fillmore, formerly Lieut. 3rd U. S. Artillery, writes from 900 L St., N. W., Washington, D. C., as follows:

"I brought forward from winter into spring a sickening case of catarrh which was making existence miserable for me, until I was induced to try a bottle of Peru-na."

"An immediate improvement gave me hope, if not relief. I kept up taking Peru-na and it has so strengthened and relieved me that I am now confident of a cure. I heartily endorse Peru-na for catarrh of the bladder and as a tonic for their weakening effects."—Geo. M. Fillmore.

A short course of Peru-na now will be just in time. During the month of April you will find the strategic time to rid yourself of chronic catarrh, one of the most persistent, stubborn diseases in the whole list of human ailments.

After you have tried it you will say Peru-na is positively the best spring medicine you have ever used.

A great many years of extensive trials of this remedy in this class of derangements have demonstrated its efficiency.

Numerous Testimonials.

Thousands of cases might be quoted in which Peru-na has rescued people from the ravages of spring catarrh, and put them on a good, solid foundation of health.

We can give our readers only a slight glimpse of the vast array of uncollected endorsements Dr. Hartman is constantly receiving. No other physician in the world has received such a volume of enthusiastic letters of thanks.

If you do not derive prompt and satisfactory results from the use of Peru-na, write at once to Dr. Hartman, giving a full statement of your case and he will be pleased to give you his valuable advice gratis.

Address Dr. Hartman, President of The Hartman Sanitarium, Columbus, Ohio. All correspondence held strictly confidential.

JOHNSON POPULAR IN LARUE.

Hon. Ben Johnson of Bardonia, who is the only candidate for the Democratic Congressional nomination, was here yesterday mixing with the people in attendance at court. Mr. Johnson is by no means a stranger in our county, as a neighborly feeling between Larue and Nelson has grown and with it has been cultivated Mr. Johnson's neighborly interest in our people. Mr. Johnson will be in opposition in his candidacy and will be given the nomination without a contest, which is assuredly a high compliment, but one which he wears easily and one which is well deserved. In the halls of Congress the people realize that he will care for the interests of the Fourth Congressional district with the same fidelity that he displays in attending to his own business affairs or that he has shown in the State Legislature.—Larue Herald.

Villages That Cut Corks.
Thousands of men, women and children in the mountains of Spain and Portugal are employed in cutting cork. It is a domestic trade, and it occupies whole villages. Agents from the factories and export houses of Seville and Lisbon go through the mountain villages each year buying up the corks in enormous quantities. It is not unusual for an agent to purchase 2,000,000 on one journey. The corks as purchased in the native villages are of all sizes and qualities. They are sorted in the cities and, after being packed, are shipped by the ton. Once here many of them are recut by hand at the rate of twenty gross a day. So fastidious are some bottlers that the cork importers have to keep in their employment several cork cutters to recut such corks as do not suit customers.

The Cause of Many Sudden Deaths.

There is a disease prevailing in this country most dangerous because so deceptive. Many sudden deaths are caused by it—heart disease, pneumonia, heart failure or apoplexy are often the result of kidney disease. If kidney trouble is allowed to advance the kidney-poisoned blood will attack the vital organs or the kidneys themselves break down and waste away cell by cell.

Bladder troubles most always result from a derangement of the kidneys and a cure is obtained quickest by a proper treatment of the kidneys. If you are feeling bad, you can make no mistake by taking Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney, liver and bladder remedy.

It corrects inability to hold urine and scalding pain in passing it, and overcomes that unpleasant necessity of being awakened to go often during the day, and to get up many times during the night. The mild and the extraordinary effect of Swamp-Root is soon realized. It stands the highest for its wonderful cures of the most distressing cases. Swamp-Root is pleasant to take and is sold by all druggists in fifty-cent and one-dollar sized bottles. You may have a sample bottle of this wonderful new discovery and a book that tells all about it, both of them sent free by mail. Address Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y. When writing mention reading this generous offer in this paper.

Don't make any mistake and remember the name, Swamp-Root. Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, and the address, Binghamton, N. Y. is on every bottle.

TALK DON'T

HURT YOU.

Did you ever notice that "talk" doesn't hurt a man much? Perfection isn't looked for in man, and when some one tries to injure a man by railing about a few faults he has, the absent one who is probably attending to his own affairs, is elevated in the hearer's estimation, while the information is lowered accordingly. If a man knocks along, doing fairly well, people realize that while he has some faults, he has more virtues, and they are charitable enough to overlook these faults. But if he is different with a girl or woman. No matter how good and pure a woman may be, let someone start an infatuation, lie about her and everyone is willing to pass it along, and there is always someone to believe it. That lie can never be lived down. It may burn low but gossiping is ready with new fuel. Did you ever think how damnably mean some goody root people are in this respect?—Meade Messenger.

CASORIA.
The Kidney and Bladder Tonic.
President Roosevelt on LYING FROM WRITINGS & SPEECHES.

The liar is no wait better than the truthfully. It puts a premium on honesty and truthfulness to attack an honest man or even with hysterical exaggeration to assail a bad man with truth.

The men who with stern sobriety and truth assail the many evils of our times—are the leaders.

In the long run the most unpleasant truth is a safer companion than a pleasant falsehood.

You can pardon most anything in a man who will tell the truth, because you know where that man is; you know what he means.

If anyone lies, if he has the habit of untruthfulness, you cannot deal with him, because there is nothing to depend on.

Hard tests.
It is not well for sedentary workers to sit on cushions. In man, owing chiefly to his erect carriage, there is a strong development of the muscles of the pelvis and the thighs, which almost completely clothe the strong bones of that region. In the seated position, so obviates undue pressure, nature has provided a proper cushion over those bones. If it's saying is well known, "We sit on the fat of the seat as on a mattress."

In sitting on a smooth and hard surface the body rests upon three main points, but in sitting on a soft cushion pressure is imparted to the muscles and interferes with the circulation in all their parts.

Great attention has been paid to this matter in the construction of bicycle saddles and, speaking generally, with very beneficial results. Nothing can be said against a certain amount of padding, if not too yielding, but the office stool, properly shaped, is an excellent seat.—Pearson's Weekly.

Food Aversions.

Cow's milk is said to be abhorred by the Japanese, and rabbits are never eaten by the Abyssinians, who explain that rabbits are too much like big rats. The natives of the Sandwich Islands would not take caviar for a gift. Cheese in Mexico is simply curds desiccated and pressed in pancake shape, and even then it is patronized only by the Caucasian colonists. The half breeds accept it with hesitation, and a true slice of hamburger would stampede a tribe of mountain Indians. They resent it as a practical joke in questionable taste. But why the Koreans eschew ice cream is a matter reports in the case. I don't know. I plain. Perhaps they are prejudiced against the Chinese people or the Chinese people's heated feelings.

The Paradise of Umbrellas.

Sarkaria is the paradise of umbrellas. They are carried proudly over the heads of every official and every nobleman, but invariably are shut at the approach of a person of higher rank, and inside the krona no umbrella may be carried open except that of the emperor himself. The umbrella is the crown, the symbol of office, the outward sign of rank and distinction. There are umbrellas of gold inside and out for the emperor, of gold outside and out for the emperor's brothers, of low satin for the emperor's brothers, with a wider stripe of the same material for his legitimate brothers, of white silk for his illegitimate brothers, and of white cotton for the illegitimate sons of the legitimate brothers, and so on ad infinitum. Every official, every military officer, exhibits his rank in his umbrella, which is invariably held from behind by an attendant whenever he leaves his house in sunshine or cloudy weather. There is an official guide book to the umbrella labyrinth of Sarkaria which contains not less than 300 varieties of designs in all imaginable colors and ornamentation.—Century.

Calvary Clover.

Calvary clover, a flower strangely symbolic of the principles of Christianity, flourishes in Palestine. Calvary clover leaves, like those of other clovers, are trefoil, embodying the doctrine of the Trinity, the central truth of Christianity. Soon after the plant begins to appear above the ground a deep spot of redlike blood appears upon each division of the leaf, but this disappears after a few weeks.

During the day the tiny leaflets form themselves into the shape of a cross, and as the sun sinks to rest the leaves again fold together, it has been suggested, as if in prayer. In due time the blossom becomes a small yellow flower and then a spiral pod covered with thorns. In ripening the flowers interlace, and in their peculiar positions many persons think they can detect the outline of a crown. Tradition says that it is good fortune to plant the seed of the Calvary clover on Good Friday.

Odd Australian Animals.

Australia produces those loveliest of the quadrupeds, the duck billed water mole and the echidna or Australian porcupine ant eater. They, along with the kangaroos, may be described as the groundlings of the mammalian family, for in respect of their structure they are of a much lower grade than, say, a dog or a cat. This inferiority is seen not only in the brain, but in many other details of their bodily anatomy.

In zoological circles the prevalent opinion is that this mole is a link between birds on the one hand and mammals on the other. These "loveliest" quadrupeds lay eggs like birds, the young being subsequently hatched from the eggs, whereas in the kangaroos and all higher mammals the young are born alive and nourished by means of milk.

Spencer's Love Affair.

Herbert Spencer never married. When he was twenty years old he had something like a tender affair, and he tells about it in his autobiography. The young lady's affections had already been placed elsewhere, and she was only playing with the infatuated philosopher. One day her "young man" called, and they all went out for a walk. Spencer says: "She, taking his arm, looked over her shoulder smilingly and rather mischievously to see what effect was produced on me, there being an evident suspicion that I should not be pleased. The revelation was not agreeable to me, but still it did not give me a shock of a serious kind."

Killing a Robin.

There are persons at the present day—and not all old women either—who believe that killing a robin will bring bad luck. According to ancient belief the stork carried a huge bird. The Arabians represented his wings as measuring 10,000 fathoms. This bird lived on worms, the latter being the streaks of lightning accompanying storms. The Germans remedied the action by creating the god Thor, whose third was the robin. Consequently if a robin first meant death by lightning, then bad luck.

The Turnpike Era.

Between the years 1790 and 1840 innumerable plans were made for the creation of turnpikes in the United States. There had been one great success, the Lancaster turnpike in Pennsylvania, and then came countless other projects. In 1811 New York had 107 chartered roads, with a total length of 4,500 miles, and the sum required to build them amounted to $7,500,000. An era of turnpikes in the United States followed the period, but the casual promoters and railroad men had great difficulty in advancing their schemes. They were considered insane when they insisted that the mountains and plains could be conquered by these means of transportation.

Nature's Beauties.

Character is fed largely through the eye and ear. The thousand voices in nature, of bird and insect and brook, the songing of the wind through the trees, the scent of dower and meadow, the myriad tints in earth and sky, in ocean and forest, mountains and hills, are just as important for the development of a real man as the education he receives in the schools. If you take no beauty into your life through the eye or the ear your nature will be hard, joyless, unattractive.—Success.

A Queer Italian Custom.

On Aug. 1 of every year the people of Val di Rossa, in Italy, gather in the great square, which is also a thrashing floor, and proceed to exorcise the devil from the trunks of trees used for the well being of their vineyards. The most intelligent man in the community is chosen master of ceremonies. A small fire balloon is made ready and sent to this master of ceremonies solemnly attache majesty. Amid the shouts of the peasantry the balloon, with the devil attached, is liberated. The good people believe that for the rest of the year the evil will not disturb their dreams or damage the vintage.

Fungus Slippers.

Before the discovery of Inflex matches a large hoof shaped fungus grew on the trunks of trees as used throughout northern Europe for making anvil and tinder. The thick, brown, woolly flesh of the same fungus, cut into slices and treated with oil, assumes the appearance of felt, is used at the present day in Germany for the manufacture of chest protectors, caps, purses, bedroom slippers and various other articles.

One Exception.

"Taps, is the hand that rocks the cradle the one that rules the world?" "That's what I've heard." "Well, I know one that don't." "Who is it?" "Nurse. She wanted to go downtown, and mamma told her she'd fire her if she went and wouldn't give her no recommendation."—Indianapolis Sentinel.

A Chronic Habit.

"No," said the man who had recently made his fourth pilgrimage to the matrimonial altar, "I can't say that marriage is a failure." "Of course not," rejoined his nether friend, "With you it is merely a habit!"—Philadelphia Inquirer.

Fraudulent Sweetbreads.

"A true sweetbread is perhaps the most healthy meat that can be eaten," said a doctor, "but you are never able to get it. The sweetbread proper is the pancreas, which is one of the most effective agents in promoting digestion, but the sweetbread of trade is usually obtained from the throats of cattle and is what is called the thyroid gland. This gland renders the windpipes, and while its texture is similar to that of the real sweetbread, it has not the same beneficial qualities. But some butchers, in order to make money, pass off the thyroid gland, which furnishes the saliva, located in the cheeks, for a sweetbread. This is the most inferior substitute of all. The pancreas, or real sweetbread, is a moist dairy morsel. It is of triangular form, while the sweetbreads obtained from the throat are of an oval form. But what is the use of making people dissatisfied? The pancreas contains thyroid, and said to be a good food for sweetbreads for years. But the thyroid is not a sweetbread, but a gland. The thyroid is the real thing."

For Congress.

We are authorized to announce the HON.

For the Children

To succeed these days you must have plenty of grit, courage, strength. How is it with the children? Are they thin, pale, delicate? Do not forget Ayer's Sarsaparilla. You know it makes the blood pure and rich, and builds up the general health in every way.

The children cannot possibly have good health unless the blood is in proper condition. Constant use of Ayer's Sarsaparilla will purify the blood and build up the system.

Hon. Ben Johnson, of Nelson county, is the right man to represent the Fourth Congressional district in Congress, not merely because he is a good lawyer and has a clean record for many years of public life, but because he is a true and honest challenger of the rights of his people. He is to the front on every question of any vital importance. He has never since he has been a candidate for the nomination which he seeks, dodged any phase of any question which has been asked him by representatives of the press and by the people themselves. While he is solid on whatever he thinks is right, Mr. Johnson respects the rights of his fellow man and does not stand in bold prowl against the stand he takes and proclaim there is no other way other than his. In Johnson's conservatism lies one of his greatest values as a public man. It has been proven time and again in public life that the man who thinks on both sides of the line is the man who wins his ballot for the best interests of the people at large.

The Courier-Journal is conducting a Tour-to-Europe contest. It proposes to send 21 young ladies on a two month's tour of Europe, this summer.
It has laid off the state into several districts, and the young lady in that district, who receives the highest number of votes, will receive the greatest trip. Miss Fannie Spinks of Hardinsburg is the leading candidate in District 12, having about 50,000 more votes than her nearest competitor, and she has an excellent chance to win. She is a cultured, well-read young lady, and she is capable of enjoying the trip thoroughly. The people of Breckinridge county should see to it that she wins the race in her district. There is a voting coupon in every issue and a subscriber to the Courier-Journal is entitled to a certain number of votes in proportion to the length of time his subscription runs.

The News hopes you will vote for her and help her win this contest.

I was permitted to have a delightful

I therefore would like to have the privilege of meeting as large a number

Dear Doctor:

Under separate cover I am sending you thirty small-pox circulars. I would suggest that you put them in the hands of your best citizens and explain to them that it will be necessary for this Board to take action in the matter unless they comply with the law and have their families vaccinated at once. We would regret very much to do this, as it would put your good little town to a good deal of expense, but of course you know we will not hesitate about it if it becomes necessary for us to take action.

With assurance of personal regards,

Sincerely,

TO TAKE COUNTY VOTE.

Workers of the Anti-Saloon league announced when in Owensboro last Sunday that the league proposed to hold local option elections during the present year, under the provisions of the county unit law, passed by the legislature at the last session. In all of the counties of the state not now "dry."
In all counties in which there is not a city of the fifth or a larger class the vote will be taken as a whole. In other counties it will be necessary to hold elections with magisterial districts as the unit.

The details of elections will have to be worked out in each county, and it is likely that they will not be held simultaneously although an effort will be made to have elections in all counties near the same time as possible.

As a preparatory campaign, an effort will be made to "give" The Kentucky issue," the official organ of the league in Kentucky, as large a circulation as possible. Agents are being appointed in all of the counties in the state, and those who obtain as many as 300 paid yearly subscriptions will be given a free trip to Lake Chattanooga with all expenses paid. They will remain at the Chattanooga for a few weeks. The party will be taken on a special train, and will be chaperoned by Prof. H. K. Taylor, principal of the Louisville Training school, of Louisville, and his wife.

Two agents have been appointed for Davies county. Miss Anna Lee Worthington, whose home is a few miles west of Owensboro, and Miss Almire Weisman, of Masonville, Miss Worthington's territory will be the western portion of the county and Miss Weisman's the eastern. Allen street, in Owensboro, being the dividing line.
Each of the young women will appoint one assistant. Both of the young women have many friends and will doubtless be successful in securing the regulate number of subscribers.

Sun Movements.

Standing on the seashore at a well-known Atlantic Coast resort, watching a beautiful sunset, with its rays piercing the clouds, were two Jews.

"Look!" said one of the followers of Moses, "see the sun rays."

"No," replied the other, "there is where de sun sets."

FROM A SCHOOL TEACHER.

Patesville, Ky. Mr. John D. Habbag, Editor of the Breckenridge News. Dear Sir:—I have come to speak a word or two, with people who claim to be Christians; and sinners, also. Now, we who claim to know Christ; we are supposed to do good and lead others to Christ. But do we do it? are we working our duty as Christians people ought to do, and expecting to go to Heaven when we die? I fear all of us do not do it. God commands, I fear "money" is the order of the day. And if we neglect the love of God, for money, what have we in the end? Nothing. For what is it compared with God? What is it? I say, Will it take you to heaven? Can you take money with you when you die? Oh! God! awaken such people from their slumber, for they know not what they do. It is all true, that we have to have money to buy the world's goods, but it should not at all mean, keep us from worshipping the God, who created all things. I believe God gave and created us money to live on, or to buy this world's goods with, but I don't believe he gave it to us to go crazy over and send our souls to torment for its sake. People who have not much money in this world, are not noticed by those who have. But thank God, His love is free to all. If we can't live in the city, and wear fine clothes, and have money to throw away and go along the streets, not noticing a living soul, let us meet, we can go to our country churches, and worship God, as every one should.

Instead of every body, (both rich and poor), going along and treating one another as human beings, they go along with their heads up, never speaking to a living soul. I don't see the Bible teach such. I would love for someone to show me a place in the Bible, where it is laid down, God says "Love thy neighbor." Do we keep his commandment? I fear some of us get together and almost curse their neighbors, because their souls are so filthy. Does the Bible teach that? If we see our friends or neighbors do something, which we think is not right, we run around telling every one we see or meet about it instead of going to the one who did the wrong.

Do we, (anyone and everyone) ever think of "Death"? This world is going to be destroyed some day, and we are prepared to meet that. Does the Bible say, "Ye know not the day nor the hour in which the son of man cometh. Not even the angels in heaven know." Why then do we idle our time away for the sake of pleasure and money.

We go on from day to day, as tho we would live on earth forever. But our lives are only compared to a brittle thread. In a moment this thread may be broken, and are our souls going to a better or a worse place of abode.

If Christ shall come at the dawn or midnight, will he find us watching that?

"Train up a child in the way he should go, and when he is old, he will not depart from it." Do we train our children for future life, or let them raise their own souls? How many people try to keep the "Ten Commandments"? I don't suppose God, gave us those commandments to look at or to feed to the fowls and stock. Do you?

I believe in parents being strict with their children instead of harsh. Because some times children causes disobedience and ill-nature.

How many of us church members, are Christian people. Just merely being a church member, won't save any one's soul. Let us do little labors of love. We are all brothers and sisters, if we are descendants of Adam and Eve. Let us love for God, and think about where we will go after leaving this world.

God says:—"Be thou faithful unto death, and I will give thee a crown of life."

Some people drive their children up and send them out to Sunday-school, and never try to teach them why we have it, or what they go for; and these innocent children grow up and think they go to "see, and be seen," in Sunday-school and church. Other people send their children to the every-day school to whip their teachers. They say, "You just go on over there and if you can't whip him, I'll whip you. Then of course these children don't know that they are going to school to obtain an education they think they are going to whip the teacher and we needn't wonder why we don't have better citizens.

Hoping, trusting, and praying, that we will all meet in the "Sweet Bye and Bye." I am yours truly,

M. E. F.

CORDIAL INVITATION

ADDRESSED TO WORKING GIRLS

Miss Barrows Tells How Mrs. Pinkham's Advice Helps Working Girls.

Girls who work are especially susceptible to a host of disorders, especially those which are obliged to stand on their feet from morning until night in stores or factories.

They in and day out the girl toils, and she is often the bread-winner of the family. Whether she is sick or well, whether it rains or shines, she must get to her place of employment, perform the duties exacted of her, and be agreeable.

Among these class the symptoms of female troubles are early manifest by weak and aching backs, pain in the lower limbs and lower part of the stomach. In consequence of frequent wetting of the feet, periods become painful and irregular, and frequently there are faint and dizzy spells, with loss of appetite, until life is a torment. All these symptoms point to a derangement of the female organism which can be easily and promptly cured by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Miss E. Barrows, Nelsonville, Athens Co., Ohio, tells what this great medicine did for her. She writes:

Dear Mrs. Pinkham:—

"I feel it my duty to tell you the good Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has done for me. Before I took them I was very nervous, had dull headaches, pains in back, and periods were irregular. I had been to several doctors, and they did me no good.

"The medicine has made me well and strong. I can do most any kind of work without complaint, and my periods are all right.

"I am in better health than I ever was, and I know it is all due to your remedies. I recommend your advice and medicine to all who suffer."

It is to such girls that Mrs. Pinkham holds out a helping hand and extends a cordial invitation to correspond with her. She is daughter-in-law of Lydia E. Pinkham and for twenty-five years has been advising sick women free of charge. Her long record of success in treating women's ailments makes her letters of advice of untold value to every ailing working girl. Address, Mrs. Pinkham, Lynn, Mass.

Warning.

You cannot have good health unless your kidneys are sound, for the kidneys filter the blood of impurities which otherwise act as irritating poisons and break down the delicate organs of the body and cause serious trouble. If you have kidney or bladder trouble and do not use Foley's Kidney Cure, you will have only yourself to blame for results, as it positively cures all forms of kidney and bladder diseases.

I do not believe in a bluff; I feel about a nation as we all say about a man: let him not say anything that he cannot make good, and having said it, let him make it good.

It is possible to obtain relief from chronic indigestion and dyspepsia by the use of KODOL FOR DYSPEPSIA. Some of the most helpless cases of long standing have yielded to it. THAT DEAR OLD HOME.

In my heart I'll cherish ever, Recollections of a home far away. Memories of a gentle mother And father, old and gray.

Brother, dear and kind Who soothed my childish fear, And led me by the hand Along the vale of years.

Slater's tender and true, When our footsteps roam To stand on the porch of home In that good old home.

When I left a sister, brother, There I became a bride, There in dreams my gentle mother Comes and watches by my side.

And sweet Fannie, too, is there To cheer the lonely hours While I grieve another home She is roaming amid the towers.

With every wish at her command, May God shield her from all harm While I wander in a foreign land And lean upon a loved one's arm.

How sad to think of the past, Of the scenes in that dear old home Too bright, too beautiful to last. They will soon be gone, forever gone.

THE JUNE SMART SET.

"The Hesitation of Gioielli," by Edith Macrae, is the title of the novelle which opens the June number of The Smart Set. It is a charming story, the scenes of which are laid in Rome, the period, however, is modern and the story is of an appealing character which will win for it many admirers.

Mary Austin, as well known for her stories of the shepherds on the western plains, contributes to this number one of her best tales, entitled, "At Tio Juan." It is a tragedy in miniature worked out with remarkable skill. Arthur Stanley Weiler is again a contributor: "The Violin" is a ghost story, thoroughly fascinating. Amos De Long is a new writer, but his contribution, "The Strength of His Arms," will cause his name to be remembered. Robert McDonald's "The Reformation of Bly Henderson," is a delightfully humorous tale, and "The Making of a Man," by Edna Keaton, will please a host of readers. Arthur Stringer is at his best in "Three Women and Love," and these are accompanied by Mabel Herbert Urner, E. J. Rath, Lella, Burton Wells, Charlotte Battell Loomis and Anna Warner, besides a story in the original French.

Bliss Carman is the editor of the essay, "The Hidden Age," and it has exquisite prose style is revealed at its best. The poetry is unusually attractive. Reginald Wright Knapp, "Ruby Archer," Charlotte Becker, Theodora Garrison, Clinton, Scotland and Madeline Bridges are among the versifiers whose work appears.

Mr. Epperson is known in Cloverport, having been here last year on a Government surveying boat. He is known to the younger set.

The richest man in the world can not have his kidney replaced nor live without them so it is important not to neglect these organs. If Foley's Kidney Cure is taken at the first sign of danger, the symptoms will disappear and your health will be restored, as it strengthens and builds up these organs as nothing else will. Occur Bowman, Lebanon, Ky., writes: "I have used Foley's Kidney Cure and take great pleasure in stating it cured me permanently of kidney disease, which certainly would have cost me my life."

HOME-COMING

PROCLAMATION.

Gov. J. C. W. Beckham has issued a proclamation inviting all former residents of Kentucky to return to this State for Home-coming Week, June 13-17 next. The Louisville Commercial Club will have printed between sixty and seventy thousand copies of the proclamation, and one will be mailed to every former Kentuckian who has heretofore received an invitation for Home-coming Week.

The paper is regarded by those who have read it as one of Gov. Beckham's best efforts, and without doubt will have great influence upon home-sick Kentuckians who read it. The correspondent to the Association Press sent the proclamation out by wire, and it was printed in every paper of prominence in the United States.

Following is the proclamation in full:

HOME-COMING PROCLAMATION. Commonwealth of Kentucky, Executive Department, Frankfort. To all about sons and daughters of Kentucky unto whom these presents shall come, greeting:

As the fond parent yearns for the return of an absent child, so does your mother Commonwealth rejoice in the prospect of bringing home, as it were, a visit, to the Old Kentucky Home.

Wherever you have wandered, into whatever lands or clime you may have gone to take up your abode, you are now by parental authority summoned back to the proud old State that gave birth to you, or to your forefathers.

The old dinner hour, that in days of yore told you of the approaching meal, has been taken down from the wall and there hangs from its sonorous and hospitable mouth a trumpet call reaching the remotest corners of the earth, and breathing into the heart of every home-sick Kentuckian the musical and irresistible appeal that he drop all else and forthwith begin his pilgrimage back to his native hearth.

A joyous welcome awaits you; feasts and festivals have been prepared to gladden your hearts; burgoo and barbecues will awaken old and delightful memories in you; music and song, in sweet strains, will cheer and comfort you; oratory and she in eloquent terms will recount to you the love which your old State bears for you and the interest and pride she has taken in your success in other lands.

As the genial sun of spring warms into life the beauties of nature, so will the kindly glances and friendly grasps of your old friends in Kentucky inspire in you, if possible, greater and tenderer love for the State you once left.

Peace and plenty shall be yours, and happiness, indeed, must be the heart that resists such an invitation and parental appeal. "God's country" in June will put on her loveliest garb for you; nature will wear, as she can wear only in Kentucky, her brightest wreath of flowers and shrubs, the feathered songsters will gladly join in the musical celebration; green pastures, shady woodlands, rolling hillsides and picturesque streams will in glorious and gorgeous style bespeak the welcome which thrills every heart.

We have great events for your coming in Louisville from June 13 to 17, thence you may radiate into all parts of the State, where equally hospitable welcomes will be given you.

Now, therefore, as Governor of the Commonwealth of Kentucky, I, J. C. W. Beckham, do by these presents and by the authority of the parent, which Kentucky claims over all her children, even unto the third and fourth generations, command peace and every form of Kentuckian, whether separated from us by imaginary State line or broad seas, to come back home; if not at the plow, the forge, the counting-room, the law-office or in whatever employment, let him for the time cease his work and return home. Men, women and children, who possess the priceless heritage of having a drop of Kentucky blood in their veins, must obey these commands and not fail to be with us during this gala period.

It is not necessary to issue any commands to the people here as to the treatment of the guests, for the former are anxious beyond measure to show them that the old Kentucky home is just as good now as it ever was.

Done at Frankfort this 9th day of May, 1906, and in the 14th year of the Commonwealth.

J. C. W. BECKHAM.

By the Governor: H. V. McCHESNEY, Secretary of State.

By W. E. GRAYOT, Assistant Secretary of State.

Mr. J. E. Keith was in Gaston last week superintending the erection of a monument.
